The implementation is built on flask-script version 1.3.1 and works great. The code is as simple as this: from flask_script import Manager manager = Manager() manager.add_command('test:run_command', run_command) manager.add_command('run:run_command', run_command) def run_command(index): print index if __name__ == '__main__': manager.run() If I compile this with both python and python3 I get 2.py files and when run, the python.pyo file is simply loaded and executed. If I try to compile it with python3 --compile I get an error: Traceback (most recent call last): File "/Library/Frameworks/Python.framework/Versions/3.6/bin/python3", line 7, in load_
